Hospitals

The University Hospital Trust has two major hospitals used for teaching: Selly Oak which has a casualty department and the Queen Elisabeth Hospital which is next to the University on the Harbourne /Edgbaston border. These are due to be replaced by one 'super hospital' adjacent to the QE.

The Womans Hospital is next to the QE.

The Royal Orthopaedic Hospital is surrounded by the BVT estate between Selly Oak and Northfield. It developed from a hospital for crippled children founded by George Cadbury.

The Children's Hospital is at the northern edge of the city centre.

The Dental Hospital is also in the city centre.

The Eye Hospital is behind the City Hospital on the Birmingham/Sandwell border.
